In brief

The best alternatives to CamScanner are Adobe Scan, Scanbot, and Microsoft Office Lens. Adobe Scan offers smart document recognition and exports in PDF or JPG, Scanbot features text search within documents and strong cloud integration, and Microsoft Office Lens seamlessly exports scans to Word or PowerPoint.

There are many people worldwide prefer only CamScanner for scanning the documents. CamScanner can turn your device into a portable scanner. You can easily archive all your vital documents, notes, receipts, whiteboard discussions anytime and anywhere. Recently, Google has removed CamScanner from the Google Play Store due to malicious malware and you should uninstall the app right now. If you are looking for a replacement for CamScanner, then here you would come to know about the best camscanner alternative.

Adobe Scan

Adobe Scan is one of the best and reliable CamScanner alternatives for the users. This famous app is developed by Adobe and fully packed with several endless features. As a user, you can scan documents, notes, receipts, ID cards or any type of paper document with the help of its smart scanner. It will recognize the document type and crop the image clearly without wasting your precious time. The app has several options to improve the quality of scanned documents and you do not have to worry about it anymore. Adobe scan app allows you to export your documents in PDF and JPG formats. If you want, you can share your files through the cloud and email.

Scanbot

Scanbot is a famous app for creating PDF files and scanning documents on the go. To start with, Scanbot can scan documents, ID cards, receipts, QR code, whiteboards and many more. It has auto-crop functionality and smart edge detection which are the same as CamScanner. The best part about Scanbot is that it can easily search for all the files by looking for text in documents, which CamScanner lacked. You can also export all your scanned documents both in JPG and PDF formats. If you are planning to upload your documents on the cloud, then there is a strong integration with various cloud services.

Microsoft Office Lens

Microsoft Office Lens is another famous alternative to the CamScanner app which you can go for right now. It will give you a smooth experience if you are into Microsoft's ecosystem. The Office Lens is not only a document scanner app, but can also scan whiteboard tables, diagrams and handwritten notes easily without any hassle. You can also export these documents directly into Powerpoint or Word documents. You would also have various standard features like ID card scanning, auto edge cropping and many more. It is possible to access all scanned documents on the cloud service or you can export your documents as a PDF file. It is a powerful scanning app and you should give it a try.
