Note: To deactivate the missed call alert, you can follow the same steps mentioned above and then delete the diversion number "+9117010". Once done, you won't receive any further missed call alert SMS.

Now the missed call alert for your BSNL number is activated on your Android device.

Note: To deactivate the BSNL missed call alert from the Android device, follow the same steps and delete the number from the "When unreachable" option.

BSNL Missed Call Alert Activation using USSD Code

The USSD activation and deactivation steps are the same for both iPhone and Android.

To activate the Missed Call Alert service, open the dialer app on your iPhone or Android and dial the number "*62+9117010#". Once confirmed, the missed call alert will be activated.

To deactivate the BSNL missed call alert, dial the USSD code "##002#" from the dialer app, and the missed call alert service will be deactivated instantly.

Conclusion

The missed call alert activation via the phone app and the USSD code are doing the same job, and effectively there is no difference at all. So, the best option to activate the missed call alert on your BSNL number is by using the USSD code option, as it is simple and quick.
