Quick answer

Have you ever been a part of that awkward situation when you were in a social gathering and happened to share the ringtone with so many people at the same time?

Have you ever been a part of that awkward situation when you were in a social gathering and happened to share the ringtone with so many people at the same time?

The feeling was not a very good one for sure. So, what can you do to get rid of it?

The answer is simple. Change your ringtone and replace it with the tunes and ringtones you love. It is the time to kill the ringtone boredom. Here is how you can do it.

Download free ringtones and customize your android smartphone's vibe. You can add a tinge of style to enhance your mood when anyone calls you anytime.

The process to download ringtones for your android phone is a simple process. The steps are as follows:

- Visit the website or open the application on your phone from which you want to download the ringtone.
- Go to the search option for your favorite ringtone and enter the correct name to download.
- Set it as your favorite. Now, you can enjoy it and get rid of your mainstream ringtone.

Downloading the ringtones is a cakewalk these days. However, if you have an android phone, the internet has a swamp of android websites and applications to help you download the best ringtones.

Here are some websites that will help you download ringtones for free and use them on your android application. Check these options out and know how well they work for you.

Zedge

If you want an application to personalize your android phone with a well-performing application, try Zedge out. More than 30 million active users tend to use the tool. At present, Zedge is soaring high on more than 400 million downloads.

It is a hub for all millennial needs. Apart from the music and ringtones, the application also helps you download sticker packs, on-demand printing, and much more. You should have a login ID to make an easy download process. Before the download, choose your device.

The drop-down menu will have the option of 'Get Ringtone.' First, you have the ringtone downloaded on your computer. Then, plug in your phone with a computer with the help of a USB wire to save it on your phone.

- The app helps to add personal effects to your android smartphone.
- The user can also use this app on your computer's browser.

Mobiles24

The next recommendation for free ringtones for android phones is Mobiles24. You can change your ringtones every day with the variety of tunes on the website. The best thing about using this is that you don't need to pay any fee to get the downloads.

After visiting the website, you should select the 'Free Ringtones' option on the vertical bar to get through seamlessly. If you cannot find it, you can enter the same in the search box. You can download the ringtones on your computer and later transfer them to your android mobile phone. You can also download different ringtones simultaneously and store them on your computer for later use.

- The tool has more than 136,000 ringtones here for your preference.
- You can save the files on your computer and later put them on your phone.

Tonetweet

Tonetweet is another wide website home to genres of songs that all android users can use in the form of your ringtones. All the website details and genres get flashed on the left bar of the window. You can find the latest collection of ringtones on the website, and you can go for it if you like it.

Don't worry if you are unable to find it. The search box is there for your rescue. First, you can enter the details in the search box and download various ringtones. Then, enter the website link on your desktop and open the hub that leads you to different collections.

- The website promises a user-friendly experience.
- The downloading process is simple. You need to copy the link and save it for yourself for future use.

Tones7

Tones7 is another good alternative to download free ringtones. The tool only supports the download of ringtones for android mobiles. The tool helps in downloading the ringtones anytime when you need them. There are songs that you can add as ringtones on your mobile phones.

The right-hand side of the website window contains the list of different genres of ringtones. It is a way to target different customers with different tastes and likings. The window has two columns. One list contains the numbering of all the popular ringtones. The next one contains all the new additions to the website.

The chances are that you cannot find the ones you are looking for in this list. The solution for you is to enter the details or the name of the ringtone on the search box. Then, try uploading an mp3 file on the website. The website will help you create a 30 seconds mp3 file to use on your android tool at different times. Then, you can download the same and use it to vibe on your android phone as a ringtone.

- It has a simple interface that has a wide genre of ringtones for website visitors to choose from.
- It has an endless list of weird tones like bird sounds and ghosts for all your pranks and other fun experiences.

Ringtone Maker

The last suggestion that helps to download ringtones for android is Ringtone maker. The best part about using a ringtone maker is mixing and making fresh ringtones. The website has a basic format, so users need not go through complex functions. Here is what you need to do.

Choose a sound clip or music file from your computer. Then, upload the same on the website. Choose the beginning and the end. The result is a mix of your favorite ringtones.

- The website promises reliable and qualitative results. But, make sure that you are not infringing any privacy rights.
- The variety of ringtones is commendable.

Conclusion

Music is an excellent way to pep up the mood. But, the love for music deflates if we cannot set our favorite music as ringtones on our smartphones. Grooving over the best tunes is an entertainment source. But, choosing to go with the same old ringtones on the android smartphone can be immensely boring. With these flawless download ringtones for android options, you have a lot of differentiation and innovation in store for you.
