In brief

As we can see with the implementation of the minimum recharge plan for the major telecom's such as Airtel, Vodafone, Idea users need to recharge regularly to receive incoming calls and for outgoing calls.

As we can see with the implementation of the minimum recharge plan for the major telecom's such as Airtel, Vodafone, Idea users need to recharge regularly to receive incoming calls and for outgoing calls. This caused a large number of users an extra expense since most of them are keeping their primary SIM which belongs to the above providers in a non-recharging way. Here we are looking into a few of Airtel's Talktime recharge plans to Increase your Airtel Outgoing Validity.

As with Jio's data offers unlimited call benefits, most users prefer to recharge their Jio number whereas the primary SIM will not be recharged regularly. to overcome this and to increase the revenue share, the telecoms implemented the minimum recharge strategy.

Now, all the users of Airtel, Idea, and Vodafone need to recharge every month with any of the available minimum recharge plan to make outgoing calls and receive incoming calls. Anyone failing to do so will result in getting blocked with outgoing service first and then with incoming service.

Here we are going to see the list of Airtel minimum recharge available for incoming calls and for outgoing calls. Use any of the plan increase the validity of your Airtel SIM.

1. Easy Recharge Plan 45

This is the lowest monthly recharge plan which gives the user a 28 days validity. The benefits of this plan include a 2.5 paise per second calling charge for all the local and STD calls. All local SMS at Rs. 1 and STD SMS at Rs. 1.5. There will be no talk time for this plan. For talk time, the user needs to recharge with Top Up vouchers. This plan also doesn't provide any data benefits.

This plan will be most useful for those who just need to keep their number alive to save it from disconnection.

2. Smart Recharge Plan 49

This is the most effective minimum recharge plan which will give users both validity and talk time together. The plan will provide validity of 28 days and with a talk time of Rs. 38.52. All the call charges will be as like plan 45. Users can make all calls at 2.5 paise per second. The pack also give users data benefit worth 100MB.

As we mentioned before, this pack is the most effective one, which provides both talk time and validity. This will be useful for those who make some outgoing calls without any further top-ups.

3. Airtel Plan 79

Like the 35 plan, this one also provides the user with both talk time and validity. This plan also provides the user with a 28 days validity along with a talk time of Rs. 64. In addition to this, the pack also provides the user with 200MB data. Airtel users can make all the local, national, and landline calls at 60 paise per minute with this plan.

The earlier full talk plan 95 is not available now. However, some other unlimited plans like Plan 99, Plan 129, and Plan 199 are introduced.
