Samsung unveiled a new 'see-through' technology in their promotion video which is viral on youtube now. The new technology will be a best solution for the road accidents which happens in many countries during the overtaking of vehicle. However the implementation of the technology is not still practical.

Samsung in their video showing that a camera is placed in front of the truck captures the visuals and it will be displayed on the screen behind the truck. The drivers can see other vehicle is coming from opposite direction before overtaking.
